

There is an appointed time for everything, and a time for every affair under the heavens.

A time to be born, a time to die;

A time to plant, and a time to uproot the plant.

A time to weep, and a time to laugh;

A time to mourn, and a time to dance.

A time to scatter stones, and a time to gather them.

A time to embrace and a time to be far from embraces.

A time to seek, and a time to lose;

A time to keep, and a time to cast away.

A time to rend, and a time to sew;

A time to be silent, and a time to speak.

A time to love, and a time to hate;

A time of war, and a time of peace.

What advantage has the worker from their toil? I have considered the task which God has appointed for people to be busied about. God has made everything appropriate to it's time, and has put the timeless into their hearts, without anyone ever discovering, from beginning to end, the work which God has done.
