

To her family and friends, Katie was warm, kind, and generous individual with a unique and sparkling personality. Talented and creative, she enjoyed music, the arts, and above all motion pictures. She deeply cared for her husband, children, and grandchildren and derived her greatest pleasure from her family.

She sustained a loving relationship with each member of her family through many phone calls, cards, and letters. She was especially close to her sister, Therese, her most devoted friend and confidant. Through fifty-five years of marriage she remained in love with her husband, George. Together they shared the sorrow in losing their daughter, Therese Ann. Yet, they also enjoyed many years of joy, happiness, and laughter that come to those so devoted to each other and to their family.

Katie struggled many years with mental illness. She nonetheless fought it courageously and managed its effects with treatment and medication. Through all her struggles she received the continual support of her family and all who loved her.

While we grieve her passing, we also rejoice that she is now free and in a place where there is no more sorrow or suffering, and where she will see God face to face.

Goodness and mercy have followed her all the days of her life. We believe that she will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.
