

Lilly led a life of serving others in her personal, spiritual and professional life. Friends and extended family knew her energy, humor and warm concern of others to revolve around her strong faith. Lilly shared her love most generously with her husband, children and grandchildren by being a part of their everyday lives. She moved about, showing a sincere interest in all that they did. She truly enjoyed taking part in the many activities surrounding her close, fun loving family. Her greatest contribution to our lives was following the fine example of her unwavering faith in God and love of all others. In her circle of friends, co-workers and patients, she touched more lives than we will ever know.
