

A letter from Nevaeh to her family and friends

I once was going to be born and this I couldn't wait, I knew that everyone was expecting me; I would try not to be late. But I really wasn't sure what was on the other side, I tried to accept what was happening but I knew I couldn't hide.

I couldn't help but wonder who my parents would be; I knew for sure that no matter what, they would always love me. So I thought about it for a while, but I knew I had to leave; I went on to another place so beautiful it's hard to believe.

I had a job to do, but it wasn't here on earth, I am so sorry you had to miss it, the day of my birth. I wanted so bad to stay and be here with you, but I knew that there was something up here that I had to do.

I am now a Guardian Angel and I hope that you are proud; I peek down through the clouds as I watch over you. I hope you know how much I love you, and how hard it was to go I miss you so much everyday, but I am sure you already know.

So please don't ever forget me, as I will do the same, you know this wasn't your fault, there is no one to blame. God needed me to be by his side and to take good care of you, so there is no need to be sad now and no need to be blue.

If you ever get lonely or you have a thought of me or just needed to say hi just look up at the sky I am so happy with the way things are even though it may not seem, I talk to you in the night time, I touch you when you dream.

I want to see the same for you, give a smile for me today, because I know that we will meet again in some other sort of way. I will be up here waiting for you, to open the gates real wide and help you to come home to Heaven, to take a step inside.

I thank you for loving me so much, please believe that this is true, and there is no one I could ever love as much as I love you.
